Portfolio: Levi's

When Levi's renovated its flagship store in downtown San Francisco, it was "fast-tracked" through six stages of construction while the store remained open for business.

Jean tables

Jean tables were given an urban appeal with mixed species wood planking on a powder coated sub-frame.

Merchandising panels

Merchandise panels were threaded to accept a wide range of accessories.

Wall system

Levi's outrigger system was combined with a range of display panels. The panels are hinged to allow access to back stock.

Cash wrap

The cash wrap was formed using brushed stainless tops and side panels with a back lit tinted glass front.

Modular fitting room

The modular fitting room was suspended from a tubular canopy and features a range of fabric drapes.
